

Trust COVID-19 Response Grant Program

Following the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Alaska Mental Health Trust Authority (Trust) board of trustees approved up to $1.525 million for the Trust's COVID-19 response grants. This amount includes a $25,000 grant to the Trust from the Sealaska Corporation for the purpose of COVID-19 response. This grant program provided awards up to $25,000 to organizations that have had their ability to provide crucial services to Trust beneficiaries impacted by the pandemic. Trust beneficiaries include Alaskans who experience mental illness, developmental disabilities, substance use disorders, Alzheimer's disease and related dementia, and traumatic brain injuries.

The Trust has awarded COVID-19 response grants to more than 75 partner organizations across the state. The table below represents a complete list of Trust COVID-19 Response Grant program grant recipients.
