

Supportive Housing Training Series SUMMIT

In partnership with The Alaska Training Cooperative (AKTC) and United Way of Anchorage (UWA), the Alaska Mental Health Trust Authority (Trust) is sponsoring a five-part series focused on supportive housing. The Supportive Housing Summit is the final virtual event of the series.

Alaska's housing and homeless services partners have identified a need to increase housing options for people who have experienced housing disruptions. Please join us to learn how Alaskans and many non-profits nationally are creating the solution for homelessness - supportive housing!

Supportive Housing Summit

March 1, 2022

8:30 am- 12:30 pm AKDT

The Trust, UWA and many other state and community leaders have worked together on housing programs and promotion of Permanent Supportive Housing over the years. The need remains great in this area and projects often take intentional coordination and facilitation to ensure viability.

The Supportive Housing Summit is targeted for agencies that are interested in developing or expanding supportive housing programs in the near future and all are welcome. The Corporation for Supportive Housing will review a couple of different supportive housing models in detail and offer time to discuss the projects in small groups.
